

Pressure on in Argentina for Cuban Break

By NAOM ABRAMOVICH
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Arturo Frondizi was reported under pressure from the country's military chiefs to day to break diplomatic relations with Cuba and fire his foreign minister because of the Argentine stand at the Punta del Este conference.

Informed sources said leaders of the three armed forces served a virtual ultimatum on Frondizi in anger at the government's refusal to vote at the inter-American foreign ministers conference for the immediate expulsion of Fidel Castro's Communist regime from the Organization of American States.

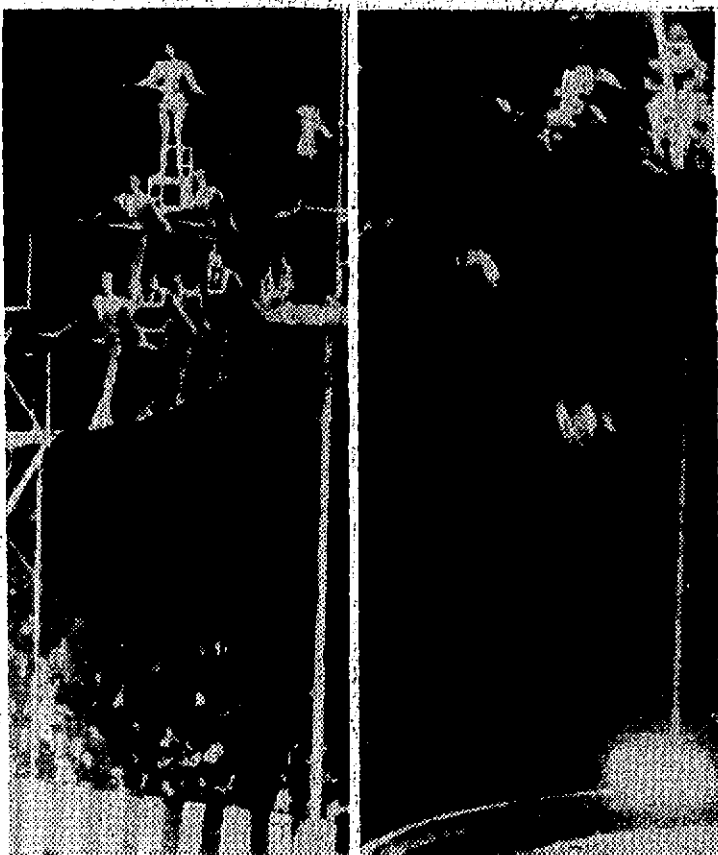

There was no indication, however, what the military would do if Frondizi refused its demand.

Bowing to the military—a powerful force in Argentine politics—would amount to repudiation of the government's refusal to go along with the United States and 13 other Latin-American countries. Foreign Minister Miguel Angel Canciano at the conference sided with Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Ecuador and Bolivia in advocating delay in the expulsion.

Castro's Cuba has been a headache before for Frondizi, caught between strong leftist factions and the traditionally conservative military.

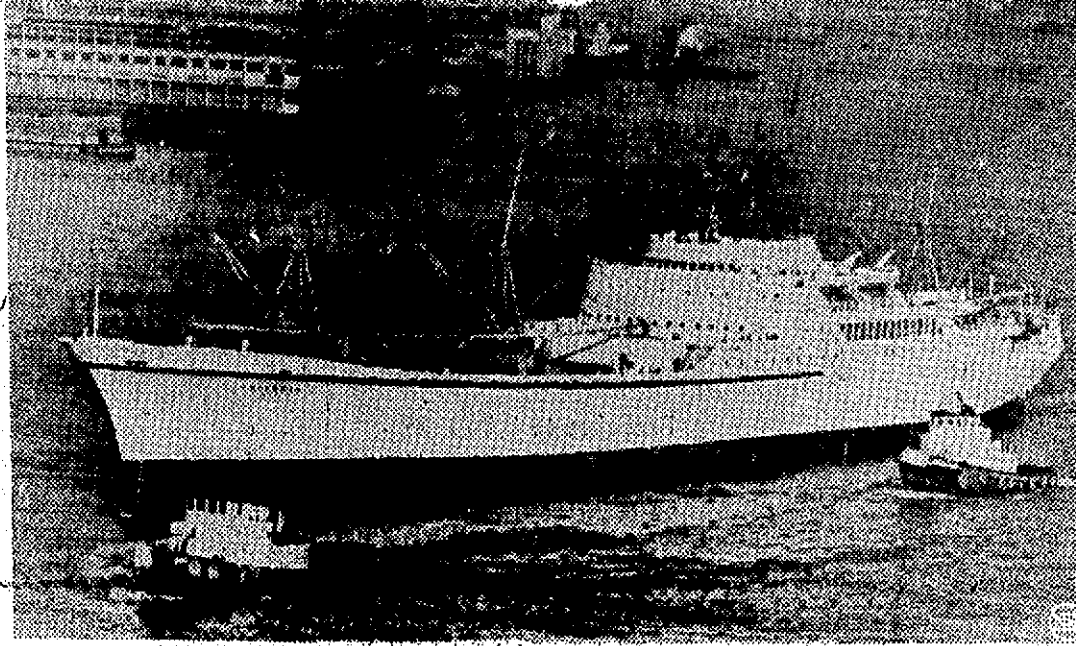

Frondizi, 53, bowed to the military last August and fired a previous foreign minister, Adolfo Mugica, who was blamed for setting up a much-criticized meeting between him and Cuba's Communist economic czar Ernesto Guevara.

While officials were silent, informants and the influential newspaper La Nacion indicated the crisis may force Frondizi's hand in a wholesale government shakeup.

picture the two performers lie in the ring while others hang to high-wire above. The fourth photo shows 17-year-old Jana Schepp, arrow, being held by remaining members of the act as circus workers below hastily rig an emergency net. Replacement for Woods Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—L. C. Dial of Brinkley, chairman of the state Parks and Publicity Commission said Wednesday Bob Evans, a Helena cotton shipper, has been named acting director of the agency.

Evans will replace Ted Woods who has been relieved of duties effective Feb. 15, the date Evans will assume the director's position.

Word of Woods' dismissal came last weekend but no reason behind the action has been revealed.

Woods joined the commission in 1955 and was named director in 1958, the year Evans became a member of the state agency.

Man Asquitted in Wife's Death

PIGGOTT, Ark. (AP)—An All-male jury deliberated for over three hours here Wednesday before acquitting J. C. Moody of a first degree murder charge in the death of his wife.

Moody had pleaded innocent by reason of temporary insanity in the bludgeoning death of his 33-year-old wife, Alberta, at their home here last Oct. 10.

Moody, a 38-year-old monument engraver and World War II veteran, testified that he remembered striking his wife with his fist after she admitted infidelity.

Mrs. Moody died of head injuries suffered from blows from an electric iron.

Hempstead, Highway 32, between Highway 4 and Nevada County line, replace three bridges at a cost of $5,830.

Brookwood Cub Pack Organized

Sgt. Leonard Graham of Prescott met with a group of parents from Brookwood earlier this week to organize a Cub Pack. Ernest Bode was elected Cub Master for the pack by the group.

Two dens were organized at this initial meeting and further plans will be made at a meeting Tuesday, Feb. 6 at 7 p. m. in the Brookwood auditorium. Den mothers will be appointed and a Boy Scout will be made chief of each den.

All interested parents and prospective cubs are asked to be at the meeting next week, as cubs will be officially registered at that time.

Crushed to Death

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP)—Peggy Sue Jefferson, a three-year-old Negro, was crushed to death near here Wednesday after darting into the path of a gravel truck driven by Neason Head of McGehee. State Police said Head overturned the truck in an attempt to avoid the child. The accident occurred on State Highway 4 about seven miles east of here.

Legality of State Laws Tested

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Frank Holt said Wednesday a demurrer will be filed to a suit contesting the legality of several important state laws. The suit, by J. J. Hooker of Little Rock, is scheduled to be heard Tuesday by Pulaski County Chancellor Guy E. Williams. Attacked are the state Revenue Stabilization Act, companion accounting procedures, the state Highway and Education Departments and a $100,000 emergency fund employed by the governor.

State May Lose Some Guard Units

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas may lose 10 of its 100 company-sized National Guard units next year under a pentagon plan to lower the strength of the militia the state adjutant general said Wednesday.

Maj. Gen. Sherman T. Clinger said the Pentagon planned to cut by 10 per cent the number of Guard units of company size.

Clinger said the plan was announced last week at Washington by Maj. Gen. Donald McGowan, chief of the National Guard Bureau of the Defense Department.

The adjutant general said that Arkansas is now permitted to have 9,983 Guardsmen and has 9,641. Guard units, he said, are kept at 70 per cent of strength.

Clinger said 1,057 of the Guardsmen were called into active duty in the Reserve and Guard buildup that began last fall.

He said the state has also sent to the Active Army between 200 and 300 major pieces of equipment such as jeeps, trucks and Howitzers.

Clinger said Col. Alton F. Balkman, the state Guard's fiscal officer, told him the loss of equipment would hamper the training of units that have not been reactivated.

Resumption of Berlin Talks Discussed

MOSCOW (AP)—Ambassador Jewell Thompson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko spent two hours and five minutes in conference today trying to arrange for negotiations on the difficult Berlin crisis.

On leaving the Foreign Office after his third talk with Gromyko on this subject, Thompson declined to give any information.

Thompson was in an amiable mood, but told reporters standing in freezing temperature: he could give out no information on his discussions.

This was the procedure he followed in his first two meetings. Western sources learned, however, that in the first two meetings the Soviet position demanding a quick settlement of the Berlin crisis through a treaty with East Germany had not been modified.

Today Thompson was asked whether he had given any documents to Gromyko but simply repeated "I can say nothing."

With Thompson was the second secretary, Kempton Jenkins, embassy specialist on German affairs. With Gromyko was Ivan Ilyichev, German specialist in the Foreign Office.

Thompson said he would promptly inform the ambassadors from Britain, France and West Germany about the talk.

Strike Halts Work at Missile Site

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—A dispute between carpenters and sheet metal workers over who is to install insulation has halted work at a Titan II missile base near Conway Col. Robert E. Snetzer, area engineer who is supervising construction, said Wednesday.

Enetzer said Sheet Metal Workers Local 249 is picketing the site at Mount Vernon.

He said the contractor at the site, Paul Hardeman, Inc., had assigned some insulation work to the carpenters and this the sheet metal workers contended they should do the work.

Project manager G. T. Conley said about 125 workers were affected.

J. B. Dadds of Little Rock, attorney for the union, said both sides have filed unfair labor practice charges with the National Labor Relations Board.

Chimp Paves Way for Man to Jump

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A sleepy female chimpanzee blazed a safety trail of sorts Wednesday for B50 bomber crews when she parachuted 20,000 feet—locked inside an escape capsule.

The 700-pound capsule's landing was cushioned by four shock absorbers like those on automobiles.

Susie, a 90-pound, 10-year-old chimp, had no complaints. Breathing a private oxygen supply, she'd slept all the way down.

All Force technicians planned it that way. They gave Susie a sedative before the test began.

On the strength of Susie's success, the Air Force plans to eject a human—not yet chosen—from a similar capsule within two weeks. The idea is to give B50 crewmen greater protection from the bomber's shipstream when they eject at high speeds.

The bomber was traveling 630 miles an hour—just under the speed of sound—when a crewman triggered an explosive charge that ejected Susie's capsule.

Future ejections will be attempted at higher speeds.

The chimpanzee's heartbeat and breathing were measured by instruments during the descent. Detailed findings weren't made public, but observers said she appeared to withstand the trip in good order.

"We hope that as communications improve," he said, "that problems which cause tension and danger to the world will lessen."

Thinks City to Be World Cool Capital

By JOHN R. STARR
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—A prediction that Fort Smith will soon become the cooling equipment capital of the world was advanced here today by Judson Sayre, board chairman of Borg-Warner Corp.'s Norge Division.

Sayre was on hand to help dedicate his firm's $20 million refrigerator, freezer and air conditioner plant.

Sayre said the plant is the largest appliance factory built in the last 10 years and represents the biggest single home refrigeration plant expansion on record.

The plant covers 25 acres and has 1,120,000 square feet of floor space. It would house 10 football fields.

"When reaching full production within 60 days, the plant will employ more than 2,000 workers and become Arkansas' biggest employers," Sayre said.

"This expansion marks a dynamic milestone for the consumer's goods appliance industry. It will serve as a refreshing stimulus not only to Norge but to the entire industry."

Norge officials announced that 1,400 persons already are working at the plant.

"The opportunity to develop and make utterly new refrigeration equipment for home and industry is enormous at this plant," Sayre said.

The first production unit from the new plant will be shown to 10,000 appliance dealers over the nation later this month, officials said.

Probe of U. S. Stockpiles to Be Probed

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has announced a double-edged investigation of how the country stockpiles strategic materials. He says the supply is so excessive it invites profiteering and mismanagement.

"The cold facts on this matter must be open to the public," Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

He said the stockpiling program would be "completely explored" by a Senate Subcommittee under Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo. He promised Symington all the evidence his administration has obtained.

Moreover, he said he would form a special commission to study policies and goals "in the light of changed defense strategy and improved technology." He disclosed he has ordered a stop to all purchases except for three unidentified items and has instructed department heads to review their needs.

Kennedy's move to eliminate the threat of major criticism from the massive program to store essential materials for national emergencies highlighted this third news conference in 16 days—a pace unequalled since his first weeks in office.

Alternately cheerful and deadly serious, Kennedy ranged from international tension to civil rights in his half hour with reporters. At the outset, he welcomed Soviet editor and Mrs. Alexei Adzhubel—she is Premier Khrushchev's daughter—among the spectators.

Immediately afterward, he denounced Communist penetration of the Western Hemisphere through Cuba and labeled Marxist-Leninism "incompatible with the inter-American system."

Kennedy said no significant progress has been made in U.S. efforts to settle the Berlin dispute with the Soviet Union but supported the forthcoming trip of his press secretary, Pierre Salinger to the Soviet Union.

"We hope that as communications improve," he said, "that problems which cause tension and danger to the world will lessen."

Censoring Hurts Reds, Probers Told

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara moved today to avert a head-on clash with senators over his refusal to tell them which subordinates censored specific speeches by military officers.

In a letter to Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the special subcommittee investigating Pentagon speech censoring, the secretary said he felt "impasses should be resolved by mutual cooperation."

Stennis promptly designated himself, Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., to meet with McNamara on Feb. 4.

Suits Are Filed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Army Engineers filed two suits in federal District Court here Wednesday to condemn land needed for a cut-off channel on the Arkansas River near Little Rock and for approval of a plan for relocating five cemeteries. The first suit would condemn 202 acres valued at $27,500 and the second would relocate two cemeteries near Russellville and three near London and Piney which would be flooded by the Dardanelle reservoir.

All Cities Should Have This Trouble

CATSKILL, N.Y. (AP)—This Hudson Valley village has a problem many larger communities wish they had: A perennial surplus in the treasury.

A state audit for the years 1958-61 noted: "In each year, general fund revenues were in excess of expenditures, resulting in operating surpluses."

The cause, the audit report continued, was "underestimating revenues and overestimating appropriations."

No Open Fire Orders for East Reds

By JOHN O. KOEHLER
BONN, Germany (AP)—East German army and police units did not have standing orders to open fire if the Western Allies had tried to smash the Red wall in Berlin when it was built last Aug. 13, a defected East German army officer said today.

"But we were equipped to deal with any eventuality. We had live ammunition for machine guns and submachine guns," the officer, a lieutenant, said at a news conference. "But I am still not certain whether an order to fire, which only the interior minister could give, would have come."

The officer's name was not given for fear of reprisals against relatives he left behind when he fled East Germany a few days ago.

The lieutenant, who gave his age as 21, also said that every man had blank ammunition which could be fired on order of company commanders.

"We were to use blank ammunition to frighten an opponent if necessary," he said. "But we had 100 live rounds for heavy machine guns and 30 rounds per submachine gun. The tanks, Soviet-made T34s, carried 56 live shells and we had antitank bazookas with six rounds."

The lieutenant said morale among East German troops in Berlin the day the wall went up was extremely bad.

"There had been open cases of mutiny when men found out they were not sent to Berlin to repel Western aggression as we had been told," he said.

The officer said there would have been great reluctance to fire upon other Germans.

"But I suppose it would have been easier to fire on American or British or French troops," he said.

The officer was one of six men who recently fled from East German army or border police units to West Germany.

Airstrip Blasted by Laos Reds

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Pro-Communist forces half encircling Nam Tha shelled a vital airstrip of that northwest provincial capital today, military reports said.

Bombardment of the airstrip by Communist mortars prevented use of the runway for transport planes bringing reinforcements and supplies for the defenders.

Members of the three-national control commission flew to Khammouang to seek permission from Prince Souvanna Phouma and pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong for an inspection team to visit Nam Tha—100 miles north of Luang Prabang, the royal capital—and other places where cease-fire violations have been charged.

Avtar Singh, Indian chairman of the group, said before board the plane that Gen. Phoum Nosavan, vice premier of the Western-backed government in Vientiane, had approved the group's visiting Nam Tha or anywhere else in the kingdom.

Bill to Expand Welfare Sent to Congress

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy called today for a $103-million expansion of permanent federal welfare outlays, with a shift in emphasis for doling out "relief checks" to the rebuilding of wrecked lives and careers.

The remedies "will not come cheaply but in the long run they will save money," Kennedy said in a special message to Congress.

He urged permanent extension of the one-year program to aid dependent children of the jobless, more spending on rehabilitation work, increased grants for child welfare, added funds for the day care of children of working mothers and removal or reduction of residence requirements for relief.

The President slapped at drastic local efforts to slash relief rolls, without directly naming the instance which has stirred national controversy, that of Newburgh, N.Y.

The message said: "Communities which have—for whatever motives—attempted to save money through ruthless and arbitrary cutbacks in their welfare rolls have found their efforts to little avail. The root problem remained."

By contrast, Kennedy said, communities which have "tried the rehabilitative road" for relief clients have fared better: "Families have been restored to self-reliance, and relief rolls have been reduced."

This approach can be furthered, he said, if Congress will enact broad revisions of the rules under which the Department of Health, Education and Welfare makes federal aid grants to match state welfare outlays.

The special message, said by officials to be the first in history devoted solely to welfare problems, will be followed by two more messages on programs administered by the department—health care for the aged under Social Security and federal aid to education.

The program outlined today would represent the most sweeping overhaul of federal relief techniques since the aid program was started in the depression of the 1930s.

Cutback in Duty of GIs Overseas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced today a cutback of overseas duty for thousands of men whose tours abroad were extended by as much as six months to help meet Soviet threats to Berlin.

It is the first major cancellation of emergency steps taken last fall to build up U.S. armed strength swiftly.

Army officials said they were unable immediately to estimate how many men were affected.

Some 42 per cent of the Army's million-man force is stationed in 50 different countries or areas. The heaviest concentration is in Europe facing the Iron Curtain.

The Army said phased reductions in tour lengths will start July 1 and that overseas tours will revert to the standard lengths by Dec. 31.

The action will save men extra overseas time ranging from a couple of weeks to six months.

The Road to the Snail

CHAPTER IV

There was an expression of dismay on Simon's round little face. Stopping in front of the senator and his aides, he shook his head reprovingly.

"You can't hold your inquiry here, Senator. Don't you understand that?"

"You're out of order!" "No—you're out of order," Simon smiled gently at him. "You can't hold hearings without her. It's preposterous to even think of it."

"Her?" Axelson put his hands on his hips.

"Santa Eulalia, of course. She's responsible for the miracle. You'll have to start all over again, I'm afraid. At her statue."

"He's right!" Polly Soames said.

Senator Axelson brought his gavel down with a force which betrayed his agitation. "I know who you are," he said, pointing at Simon. "You received a summons to this hearing. You—"

"But I was waiting at her statue, Senator."

A murmur of approval and affirmation swelled insistently in the fragrant air.

"Now hold on," Senator Axelson said, squaring his shoulders. "For this man's benefit. I'll repeat what I said earlier about miracles. I'll make it emphatic this time. My job isn't investigating miracles. I don't give a hoot about miracles. What I want—"

Adam Barn flashed a bulb in his face.

"Now see her," Axelson said, shaking his finger angrily at the huge telescopic lens which protruded from Adam's face like a snout. "I'm a regular churchgoer, and I believe in God 100 per cent. The statistics pertaining to my church attendance have been published frequently in the Congressional Record."

Polly Soames sighed despairingly.

"You didn't know him, of course, but it's enough to make me cry seeing what he's come to."

The senator hammered for silence. Some of his steely composure was gone; there was a baffled look in his eye as he stared at us. I think he had heard for the first time in his life — faintly of course — the sweet, fearful music of invisible pipers.

"We'll recess for one half-hour," he said hoarsely. "You seem to think this man has a point. We will re-convene at the statue of Santa—" He shook his head in confusion. "Well, Santa whatever-her-name-is. In one half-hour."

"Poor Acorns," Polly Soames said. "I'd better go talk to him."

Everyone was on time when the hearings were resumed in the plaza in front of the cathedral. The doves didn't seem to mind the crowds and the noise. They had become used to the excitement in the village—the carloads of VIPs, scientists swarming about, tourists snapping their pictures.

There was an interested row of them perched on the rain gutters of the church, watching the action from a distance, like bleacher fans. Others sat placidly on Santa Eulalia's outstretched arms, and some were doing a light-rope act around the rim of her halo.

The morning mists were gone and the sun was climbing up into a clear white sky. Pots of geraniums sparkled on window sills. The sea was the color of violets, and smooth as glass. The tiny fishing boats looked as if they had been painted on the water.

I stood with my arm around Terry in the rear of the crowd. Pye Littlejohn was with us, a study in gloom.

"Any hope at all?" I asked him. He sighed and shook his head. "I'm afraid not. His mind's made."

Senator Axelson stepped up onto the stone ledge at the base of the statue, and his aides grouped themselves around him in a pipe-smoking cordon. Standing head and shoulders above the crowd, Axelson spread his arms for silence. Whatever Polly Soames had said to him obviously hadn't scratched his flinty surface; he stared at us with cold, imperson-ally.

Nor would a less gifted observer, in describing a flight in a Russian airliner, have included the fact that "there was much chatter going on that I could not understand."

Ellender's account of his sojourn in the Soviet Union, one of the eight countries he visited, makes particularly intriguing reading.

"Hogs are raised principally for bacon, meat, and lard," he wrote in telling of a trip to a state farm near Moscow.

As for the Communist way of life, the Louisiana Democrat commented that "even toilet paper is standardized."

Bit Rough

"I have been a guest, so far, in four different hotels, and the paper is of similar size, pink and crinkled, much like crepe paper," he confided. "It looks like the kind of paper used for decorations and is rather rough."

Later on, in telling of his stay at another hotel, he noted that "the toilet seat was made of wood, with hinges of steel." Unfortunately, however, he did not explain the significance of this.

In South Viet Nam, the senator reported, his hotel dining room had a good orchestra, including a bearded young pianist who played particularly well.

While in Hong Kong, he recorded that his hostess at a dinner party, Mrs. Fung Ping Fou, was "very popular" and "everyone calls her Ivy."

Without these little personal touches, the report just wouldn't have been the same.

7th World Trip for Senator

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Allen J. Ellender recently returned from his seventh trip around the world and, as is his custom, has filed a lengthy report on his journey.

I always look forward to reading these travelogues, for Ellender, an intrepid adventurer, has a way of making them entertaining as well as informative.

As a taxpayer, I cheerfully bear my part of both his travel expenses and the cost of printing the diary of his odyssey. Being able to share his experiences vicariously is the next best thing to going on a junket myself.

Last year, his report, published by the Senate Appropriations Committee, attracted considerable attention because of its emphasis on geographical details.

Some readers felt that he did not need to point out that Japan was a group of islands off the coast of China or that the canals in Holland were filled with water.

Have Charm

To me, however, the little things in Ellender's reports are the essence of their charm. I was pleased to note that he did not stint himself in this regard in the report just published.

For instance, the average senator wouldn't have bothered to let us know that his departure from New York was delayed 30 minutes because one of the airplane doors wouldn't close.

Nor would a less gifted observer, in describing a flight in a Russian airliner, have included the fact that "there was much chatter going on that I could not understand."

Nuclear Powered Cargo Ship Leaves

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—The NS Savannah, the world's first nuclear-powered cargo and passenger ship, put out to sea today on her maiden voyage.

The ship eased into the Delaware River from the New York Shipbuilding Corp. dock where she was built, and headed into the Atlantic on a two-day trip to Yorktown, Va.

She was operated by auxiliary power since her atomic reactor still is undergoing tests.

"Very well, the hearing is resumed. I hope we've satisfied your objections to our prior meeting place. It seems a lot of trouble, however, since I've got just one thing to say. And that's the decision and conclusion of this committee, which is that the men involved in this business are to be sent from Spain immediately. Later, our government will have hearings in Washington in regard to our personnel, and our own."

At this point a dove settled companionably on the senator's shoulder, and Adam Barn was up like a shot to snap the picture.

Axelson started nervously, and glared at the bird as it fluttered back to the statue.

Simon looked at him with new respect. "That's never happened before, Senator."

"Good thing, I'd say," Axelson replied.

3 Counties Listed as Jobless Area

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Morrilton labor market, composed of Conway and Perry Counties, has been approved by the Bureau of Employment Security as an "area of substantial and persistent unemployment."

The action was announced today by J. L. Bland, administrator of the Arkansas Employment Security Division.

The area had been recommended for designation as a redevelopment area under the Area Redevelopment Act.

The Waldron (Scott County) and Clarksville (in Johnson County) areas had been designated earlier as redevelopment areas upon recommendation of the bureau.

The Camden area (Ouachita and Calhoun Counties) retained its classification as an area of labor surplus.

The Little Rock Metropolitan Area continued in a "C" classification as one of moderate labor surplus over demand for labor.

Sewer Plan Contested

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A lawsuit testing the legality of a Forest City sewer district was filed Tuesday before the Arkansas Supreme Court. The action was brought by Walter and Jessie Smart as property owners in Sewer Improvement District No. 1. They question the legality of the district because a portion is outside the city limits.

Fulbright to Return

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., who stumped Arkansas for several months recently, will return to the state Friday for more politicking. Fulbright, who is seeking re-election, plans to conduct a two-week speaking tour before returning to Washington.

Testimony in Pentagon Censor

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Pentagon censor testified today the Kennedy administration's main guideline for clearing speeches to be made by military personnel does not mean exactly what it says.

The statement came from Willis D. Lawrence, assistant director for policy and procedures in the Defense Department's directorate for security review, at a Senate investigation of allegations that censoring has been so tough it muzzles military men who want to denounce communists.

Lawrence said a directive issued last May 31 by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, if interpreted literally, would mean a complete ban on any discussion of foreign policy by military men, but "I don't think this is what he intended. I didn't think it was meant to be interpreted literally."

"In all public discussions, all officials of the department should confine themselves to defense matters. They should particularly avoid discussion of foreign policy matters, a field which is reserved for the President and the Department of State," the directive said.

James Kendall, counsel to the subcommittee, said that if literally interpreted it placed a "complete ban" on discussions of foreign policy, and marked a departure from the rules set by the Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman administrations.

"If it is interpreted literally, this is correct," Lawrence replied, but added that he felt sure liberal interpretation was not desired.

New Divisions Forming Fast

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two new regular Army divisions will be formed sooner than expected. But Army officials say this doesn't necessarily mean quicker release for Reservists called to active duty last year.

The Army announced Tuesday the 1st Armored Division will be activated at Ft. Hood, Tex., Feb. 3, and the 5th Mechanized Infantry Division originally scheduled for March, will be formed Feb. 19 at Ft. Carson, Colo.

Preaches to 3,000

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham in a surprise visit to Bogota drew 3,000 persons to a sermon at the American Presbyterian School Monday night. Bleachers in the school gymnasium were packed and an adjacent auditorium was filled.

At the end of the sermon scores of people, some in Indian robes, pushed through the aisles and prayed together. Applause and shouts of "amen" greeted Graham's declaration he would try to return to the capital of this predominantly Roman Catholic country for a major crusade.

DOROTHY DIX

Husband Asks How to Salvage Marriage Wrecked By Accident

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKIN

Dear Helen: Ours was a happy marriage for 13 years — unlucky number, I guess, because that was the year the log rolled on me and ever since trouble has dogged my steps. I am a sawyer in a lumber camp, one of the best, until that accident, so friends and boss say.

The woods have been my life and livelihood. If I weren't a sawyer, I'd be a poet and write poems about their beauty; oaks purple in the fall; maple trees awash with gold; wild grape vines festooning scarlet sumac. I like the sound of things in the woods. Many a time I've stopped sawing to hear the song of a bird or wind rustling the leaves. Then the log rolled on me and they carried me to the hospital and life hasn't been the same since.

I was under doctor's treatment for two years. My wife couldn't adjust herself to me being sick and under foot, nor could I. One day I climbed in the truck and headed for nowhere. Outside of a few beers I'd never drunk before but when I left home that day I got drunk and stayed drunk. When my wife didn't try to stop me, friends stepped in, took me to one of those places where you quit drinking and sobered me up so I could get working again in the lumber camp.

I went to see my wife to tell her I was sorry. One word led to another and I tried to kill myself. She called the police and I landed in the psychiatric ward of the hospital. Now, I'm released, but she won't take me back. She was a good wife before the log rolled on me; cooked well, cared for our children and — I loved her, still do. How can I make things like they were? —Lonesome Al

Dear Lonesome: We can never recapture the past no matter how hard we try. It's a good thing we can't. Otherwise we would be turning back, instead of forward. Once you realize that trouble is a blessing, not a blight, your character will be strengthened and your life more secure for the test. Suicide is a coward's way out.

Give your wife time to readjust. All this must be soul-trying for her too. Justify your friends' belief in you by being on the job mentally, as well as physically. If the accident has slowed you up, your boss might find a place for you in the office. Live by yourself for the present. You may be lonely but it will give an opportunity to study and read. Since poetry is your interest, read Ralph Waldo Emerson and Walt Whitman. Become self-sufficient and your wife will spread the welcome mat.

Dear Helen: What I thought would be the land of promise has proved a purgatory. My husband, who is an American, treats me a foreigner, like a dog. Were it not for our two children I would leave tomorrow. I grew up in an atmosphere of love. I was 15 years alone but never so helpless. Please advise me. —B

Dear B.: Don't blame America. The war between men and women goes on the world over. It could be that your discords are loud-pedaled by the barriers of language and customs.

For the children's sake, try to understand one another — and I mean this literally. Do you speak English well enough to really communicate with your husband? Can he speak your language fluently? How about having family language lessons? Teach your husband and children your language. In turn, he should teach you three his. Being able to share an interest will bring you closer together.

Dear Helen: I'm a 17-year-old girl with two worrisome problems: my mother and my boy friend. Mama nags, tattles, and slave drives me. Every time I go out with my boy friend she accuses me of wrong-doing.

When I confide in her she broadcasts it from the house-tops. Even though I do all the house-work and keep up with my studies, she is forever at me to do better. My boy friend hasn't the best reputation but he's the boy for me. We don't see each other often because he lives 35 miles away and, having no job, can't afford to buy gas for the car. How can I get Mama to let up on me and my boy friend to show that he cares. —Girl Who Needs Help.

Dear Girl: There is only one answer to both problems. Shakespeare said it centuries ago: "To thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man." Be your best self and you will bring out the best in others.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Teen-age Code." Dorothy Dix is a registered trademark. A Bell Syndicate Feature ered it part of their jobs to preserve good speech," said Randall sadly.

"Today," he continued sternly, "the man who is considered a good actor is likely to speak worse than the average man—and mumble, in addition."

Randall, who speaks out and enunciates clearly, will be visible and making pear-shaped sounds next Monday night in NBC's 90 minute special, "Arsenic and Old Lace."

"I play the nephew," he said. "You remember, the only sane member of the family."

Jack Paar's guest next Monday night will be former vice president Richard M. Nixon—a return. Presumably, other candidates in the California gubernatorial race will thus become eligible for equal time.

Herbert Brodtkin, producer of CBS' consistently interesting series, "The Defenders" is broadening his executive base: a series of hour-long thrillers called "Espionage" to be made in England and partly financed by NBC.

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the beginning of broadcasting, speech purists have been muttering the constant attrition of our language from the mouths of the performers.

All of us have noted the extemporaneous speech of the jolly masters of ceremonies whose occasional problem seems to be "I-me" confusion ("It's so nice of you to visit the show and I...").

One newspaper changes the title of the ABC show, "Who Do You Trust?" to "Whom do you Trust?" when it turns up in its news columns—as opposed to its program listings.

Even though it's a vintage sales pitch, many sensitive viewers still flinch when a smoke is alleged to taste "like a cigarette should."

Tony Randall, actor and lover of the English language, is among those disturbed about the trend. "Time was when actors consid-

President Chester Arthur cleared out 24 wagonloads of old furniture, vases, moth-eaten rugs and rusty mousetraps from the White House and sold the lot at auction. He refurbished the house in the gilt and plush popular in the 1880s.

February Comes in With Cold

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
February's arrival found arctic conditions in rigid rule today along the nation's northern border from Minnesota to Maine.
Temperatures sank to levels un-der 30 below zero in upper Minnesota and New York. The official minimum reading at International Falls, Minn., was -32.
In the northern Adirondacks, two hamlets, Burke and Duane, reported -38 unofficially. Bernad-28; Saranac Lake, N.Y., -27; Duluth, Minn., -22; Saul's Ste, Marie, Mich., -21; Massena, N.Y., -20; Montpelier and Newport, Vt., -19.

There were signs of lessening severity in the four-day cold siege in areas of lower altitudes and closer to the sea. Boston's minimum reading of 18 above was less rigorous than its coldest night of the year Wednesday when the mercury dropped to 8.

The 30 day forecast, however, supplied no fuel for warmer hopes. It said that below-normal temperatures were expectable for numbed residents of the Northeast and the Great Lakes regions.

Labor Charge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - A suit charging the Dixie Furniture Co. of Helena with violating the Fair Labor Standards Act was filed in federal District Court here Wednesday by the U.S. Labor Department. The suit contends the company paid employees less than the federal minimum wage and that several employees had worked more than a 40-hour week without adequate compensation.

Cab Driver Charged

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Harry C. Yates, 33, a Texarkana cab driver charged with shooting into the apartment of a neighbor was arrested at Muskogee, Okla., on a charge of unlawful flight, the FBI said Wednesday. Yates is accused of shooting into the apartment of W. L. Brown on Jan. 24 after becoming angered by cries from the Brown's baby.

Fallout Survey

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - A contract covering 10 counties in the current fallout shelter survey was awarded by Army Engineers Wednesday to the Little Rock architectural firm of Ginochio, Cromwell, Carter, Dees & Neyland. The survey area covers Pulaski, Ashley, Drew, Garland, Hot Spring, Jefferson, Lincoln, Perry and Saline counties.

Censoring

McNamara over the weekend and try to reach some agreement.
McNamara said in his letter that he had stopped short of invoking the doctrine of executive privilege in the matter. This doctrine, advanced many times in the past, is that Congress has no power under the Constitution to require production of documents and memoranda relating to purely internal operations of executive departments.

McNamara's move came as members of the subcommittee started closing ranks behind Thurmond, who has demanded the names of the censors who handled particular speeches.

Some of them raised talk of a possible contempt of Congress citation if this became necessary to force a showdown on the question whether Congress has a right to the information.

The subcommittee discussed the matter before permitting Arthur G. Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, to read into evidence a statement contending that the censoring of military men's speeches makes the United States a tougher foe of communism.

Sylvester then began reading his prepared statement, speaking in calm, level tones.

Sylvester said one reason the texts of speeches are censored in advance is to "insure that this country speaks not from the weakness of contradictory voices but from the strength of one."

"Our review as a matter of first priority seeks to deny sensitive information to an enemy," Sylvester said.

"Secondly we review for conflict with policy. But the reviewer must also try to protect against expressions which unwittingly might provide the unscrupulous Communist propaganda machine with material to be used against us, thus producing confusion among our allies and suspicion among the uncommitted nations."

He termed the censoring a protection for military men who, without it, could make statements "damaging to a national policy in the making or already established."

While still giving Americans "as much information as we prudently can," Sylvester said, his office in the past year has:

1. "Curtailed disclosure of information about intelligence-gathering activities."

2. "Kept secure the details of missile firings in remote areas, to avoid giving intelligence agents step-by-step developments on these weapons."

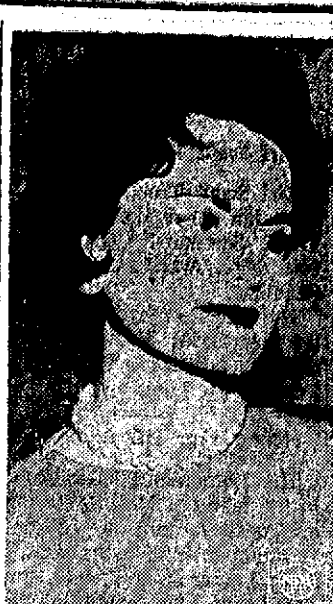

3. "Where practical, prohibited close-up photography of our missiles, space vehicles and supporting facilities to prevent an enemy from making scientific analyses from photographs."

In Wednesday's hearings a Pentagon censor cited McNamara's order as the basis for decline to reveal who had censored testimony prepared by Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau for a House Space Committee hearing a year ago.

Censor Willis D. Lawrence, No. 2 man in the Defense Department directorate for security review, said he could not give the information because of McNamara's order.

Thurmond, a member of the subcommittee, has accused the Pentagon of "muzzling" military men who wanted to take an anti-Communist stance in their speeches.

The Pentagon insists there has been no softening of any speech's anti-Communist impact. It contends the censoring is necessary to keep the speeches in line with national policy.

Tragedy Fails to Halt the Wallendas

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) - Their faces grim, Herman and Gunther Wallenda Wednesday night walked the high wire from which two members of the great Wallenda troupe had fallen to death only 24 hours earlier.

There wasn't a sound in the huge state fair Coliseum as the 60-year-old Herman and his son, Gunther, 34, paid their tribute to the show business tradition that the show must go on.

With a substitute aerialist flown in to fill the gap left by death and injury, the two Wallendas performed feats of daring for five minutes above the concrete floor.

As on the previous night, there was no net between the Wallendas and the concrete. Herman and Gunther were the only ones of the seven Wallendas on the wire the night before who were not killed or injured.

Gene Mendez had flown in from Stockholm, Sweden, to be the third man.

All activity in the Coliseum stopped as the two Wallendas and Mendez climbed the poles to the slender wire 35 feet up to do their Shriner circus act.

Mendez was first on the high wire. He was followed by Herman and then Gunther.

Gunther rode a bicycle across the wire and then teamed with Mendez, a former member of the troupe, to carry Herman standing on a cross bar between them. In their finale, Herman stood on his head on the bar.

The three men walked the wire to a platform at one end. As soon as they stepped onto the platform, ending the act, the crowd of approximately 5,000 burst into thunderous shouting, whistling, hand-clapping applause.

Herman rushed to his dressing room, Gunther remained outside to accept the congratulations of the performers and circus hands who swarmed to him.

The Wallendas have to decide on funeral plans for their dead: Richard Faughnan, 29, husband of the former Jenny Wallenda; and Dieter Schep, 23, a nephew whom Karl Wallenda managed 10 months ago to rescue from Communist East Germany.

The Faughnans had two children, a son, Tino, 11; and daughter, Lilah, 9. The children were staying with their grandmother in Sarasota, Fla., while their parents were away. Jenny is Karl Wallenda's daughter.

Faughnan had called the high wire the "safest place in the world."

"I'll never die up there," he had assured his step-mother, Mrs. Charles Faughnan of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Schep's 17-year-old sister, Christina (Jana), was atop the Wallendas' "human pyramid," about 51 feet from the Coliseum's concrete floor, when her brother made the fatal step that tore the pyramid apart.

Karl Wallenda, 56, head of the troupe, and Gunther managed to hang onto the wire and caught Jana as she fell. They held her by the hands until performers below stretched a blanket into a makeshift net. Jana hit the blanket, but bounced from it and suffered a brain concussion when she hit the floor.

Mario Wallenda, Karl's 22-year-old adopted son, plunged to the floor, his fall unbroken. His skull was fractured and doctors described his condition as "very critical."

Karl managed to make his way across the wire to a platform, as did Gunther and Herman. Karl later was hospitalized with a possible broken pelvis and internal injuries.

Jealous of His Rival's Baking

REIMS, France (AP) - "I was jealous because he baked better croissants than I did," said baker Robert Jactat when asked in court to explain why he had spread tacks in front of a rival's store. Jactat was fined 600 francs—about $125.

Testimony in Second Rape Trial

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - V. A. Washburn, a retired police officer, was to continue testimony today in the rape trial in Pulaski Circuit Court of Luther Bailey, a Woodson Negro.

Washburn testified Wednesday that when Bailey was arrested in June, 1956 for allegedly raping a white Little Rock widow, he told the officer that she had voluntarily submitted to sexual relations.

The state's first of six witnesses Wednesday, Charles L. Pitts, a former neighbor of the alleged victim, told the court she was bruised and exhausted when she told him she had been attacked.

Pitts, who now lives at Camden, said the woman came to his house and asked him to call police and her daughter.

Also testifying were State Trooper Bill Baker, Det. Sgt. Buck Lane, Mose Turner and Lottie Burgery.

Turner and Burgery, both Negro officers, testified that on the night of the alleged attack they arrested Bailey and found a purse belonging to the woman in Bailey's car. Burgery is now retired.

An earlier conviction and death sentence were overturned by the 8th U.S. District Court of Appeals in St. Louis which contended racial discrimination existed in the circuit court.

A jury, including one Negro, was seated Tuesday and opening statements were made Wednesday. The state is again seeking the death penalty.

Duquesne Has Become East Powerhouse

By SHELTON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Duquesne, snubbed by the post-season tournaments last year, has emerged as the powerhouse of Eastern college basketball this season.

The Iron Dukes from Pittsburgh, ranked seventh in this week's Associated Press poll, throttled Villanova 53-51 at the Pitt Field House Wednesday night to enhance their national stature. The victory was Duquesne's 15th in a row against two setbacks and avenged a previous loss at the hands of Villanova, which is 15-3.

Second-ranked Kentucky was the only other member of the top 10 to see action Wednesday night and the Wildcats racked up their 14th straight triumph. Kentucky, the Southern Conference leader, disposed of Georgia 86-59 in Atlanta for its 15th success in 16 outings.

A year ago Duquesne finished with a flourish, winning its last three games—including the finale against St. Bonaventure, which had gained a berth in the NCAA championships. The Iron Dukes compiled a 15-7 won-lost record in the strength of their strong windup.

The Dukes went in front to stay 49-47 on Bill Stromple's jumper with 5:58 to go. Villanova was ahead at the half 29-27 and the lead then changed hands several times.

Kentucky coasted to its sixth SEC triumph in a row at the expense of outclassed Georgia.

West Virginia edged Wake Forest 101-99 on the winners' court as the Mountaineers rebounded from their surprise defeat Monday by Virginia Tech. Jim McCormick powered West Virginia's Southern Conference front-runners with 35 points. Big Len Chappell's 37 points were high for the Deacons of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

In Big Eight games Oklahoma State whipped Oklahoma 65-49, and Iowa State beat Missouri 85-73.

Gordon Hatton triggered Dayton with a 27-point harvest as the Flyers downed Drake 79-74. Norm Halbertstad propelled Virginia Military to an 80-72 conquest of George Washington with a 26-point output and William & Mary Jolted Furman 79-67.

Hot Shot is a pint-sized Chihuahua which looks more likely to get hurt than to do any damage, so its original owner—afraid one of his three children might step on the dog and injure it—gave Hot Shot to Mrs. J. A. Williamson of Route 2 Newport.

Hot Shot took a liking to Mrs. Williamson and followed her every step. One night Mrs. Williamson rose from bed and Hot Shot jumped from a chair to follow her.

"I tried to dodge him in the dark room," Mrs. Williamson said, "to keep from stepping on him, and down I went."

Mrs. Williamson got a broken left arm.

Hot Shot wasn't hurt.

The good memory of an old Navy buddy paid off in a free trip to the Sugar Bowl for Mr. and Mrs. Hosea McDaniel of Jonesboro.

The couple were sitting home quietly observing their 20th anniversary, mulling over the idea of taking a "honeymoon trip" to New Orleans for the bowl game, when the phone rang.

The operator wanted to know "Is this the Hosea McDaniel who was a chief petty officer in World War II?"

When informed it was, a second voice on the line asked, "Is that you, Mac?"

The caller was Elwood Branch, a three-year Navy companion whom McDaniel hadn't seen since 1953.

Branch said he remembered it was the McDaniel's wedding anniversary and wanted to give them a trip to the Sugar Bowl for a present.

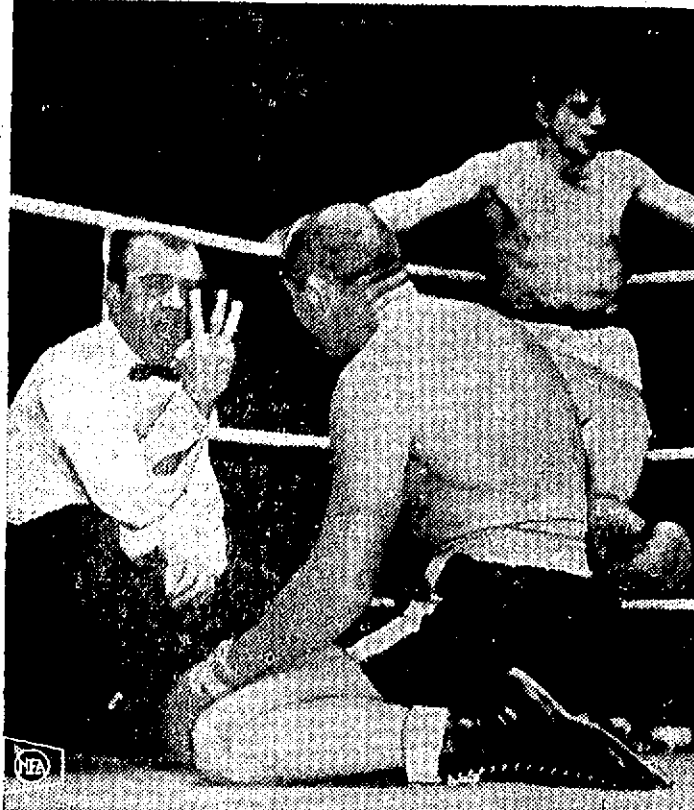

They accepted.

Ruling Party of Italy Goes to the Left

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Italy's ruling Christian Democratic party swung to the left today in a move to give the country a new government backed by Pietro Nenni's Socialists, former allies of the Communists.

The Christian Democratic party congress after five days of debate here, voted on Premier Amintore Fanfani's plan to scuttle his middle-of-the-road government and replace it with a center-left cabinet that could win Socialist support for a more vigorous domestic program of economic, social and school reforms.

The resolution put before the party delegates, although approving the "opening to the left" Fanfani has urged since 1955, pledged the party to maintain Italy's pro-Western foreign policy as a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It also rejected any move toward outright communism or fascism, declaring that any government backed by the Christian Democrats would work "in full independence of every totalitarian influence."

The rightist faction of the Christian Democrats conceded defeat in advance by accepting only 22 of the seats on the party's national council. The rest went to backers of the opening to the left.

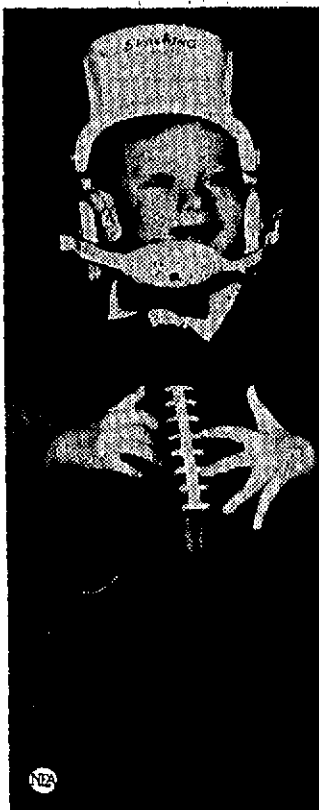

The Christian Democrats are the largest party in Parliament but do not have a majority, and Fanfani since August 1959 has headed an all-Christian Democrat government backed also by the Republicans and Giuseppe Saragat's Democratic Socialists on the left and the Liberals on the right.

Fanfani now hopes to form a coalition cabinet.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — At least five persons died early today in a general alarm fire in a three-story rooming house on Wilson Street, South Providence.

Two of the victims were identified as Virginia Davis and her daughter, Mildred, 8. The others were not identified. One man jumped from the roof.

It was the second fire tragedy in New England this week. Nine persons perished in a blaze at Buckland, Mass., on Sunday.

Palm Springs Classic in Second Stage

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Golf's only 90-hole tournament, the $50,000 Palm Springs Classic, swung into its second stage today with unheralded Stan Leonard and Rex Baxter Jr. leading the procession.

They scored 65s, six strokes under par in the first round at the Thunderbird Country Club Wednesday.

Baxter, 25, of Amarillo, Tex., is a relative newcomer to the money trail. Leonard, 47 Friday, has won the Canadian PGA title eight times.

One stroke back of the leaders was Doug Ford, recent winner of the Bing Crosby tournament, while two shots back were U.S. open champion Gene Littler, the winner at San Francisco last Sunday; Lionel Hebert and Jerry Steelsmith.

The 68 group included Mike Souchak and England's Neil Coles while the 69 bracket was jammed with prominent players.

Included were Gary Player, Arnold Palmer, both signaling a return to form after a drought of good scores this winter, Jay Hebert and Jimmy Demaret.

Also to be reckoned with was Sam Snead. He had a 70 in his first 1962 tournament.

Even with par 71 was Jack Nicklaus, 1961 amateur champion turned pro, while last year's Palm Springs winner, Billy Maxwell, had a disappointing 73.

Norge Day Celebrated at Ft. Smith

By JOHN R. STARR

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Fort Smith rolled out a royal welcome for the Borg-Warner Corp. here today with a giant parade and dedication of the firm's $20 million refrigeration plant.

Thousands lined sunbathed Garrison Avenue to watch the parade, which city officials said was the largest in history in the community.

Earlier Judson Sayre, board chairman of the Borg-Warner Corp.'s Norge division, predicted that Fort Smith will soon become the cooling equipment capital of the world.

Sayre said the plant is the largest appliance factory built in the last 10 years and that its construction "marks a dynamic milestone for the consumer's goods appliance industry."

The parade's line of march was over two miles long. It moved past the reviewing stand for more than an hour.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus rode in the lead car. Rep. Dale Alford, Fort Smith city officials and officials of Borg-Warner and its Norge Division followed.

The parade included high school and college bands from Arkansas and Oklahoma, beauty queens and more than a score of elaborately decorated floats.

Theme of the parade and the day-long celebration was "Howdy, Norge."

Most of the parade floats bore this legend. It also was emblazoned on store fronts, in windows, on marquees and on pennants attached to lamp poles on downtown streets.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony at the huge plant on outskirts of the city followed the parade.

The plant, which covers 25 acres under one roof, has more than 1,000,000 square feet of floor space and Norge officials said it is the largest home refrigeration appliance factory in the world.

The plant already is employing 1,400 persons and it expects to hire at least 600 more to manufacture refrigerators, freezers and air conditioners.

Those present for today's observance included Roger Ingersoll, board chairman, and Les Porter, president, of Borg-Warner.

Eventually the huge plant — which covers 25 acres under a single roof — will employ 2,000 persons. Construction started in May, 1960, and installation of machinery has been underway for several months.

Borg-Warner's Norge Division is operating the plant, which replaces a plant in Muskegon, Mich. Fort Smith Chamber of Commerce officials estimated $20,000 was spent on floats and other arrayed paraphernalia.

Norge officials estimated the plant at capacity operation will

Fishing Around Arkansas Lakes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Here is a fishing forecast from the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission: Lake Ouachita: Water good. Bass fair on minnows and artificial bait. Crappie poor. Bream fair on crickets and worms.

Lake Catherine: Water seven to eight feet low. Bass fair on artificial bait.

Lake Maumelle: Clear and full. Bass fair on minnows and black and yellow plastic worms. Crappie fair on minnows.

Lake Conway: Still low on draw-down.

Lakes Greason, Norfolk, Bull Shoals and Hamilton: No report.

Four Killed in House Fire

NEW BOSTON, Mich. (AP) — A father and three of his four children were killed today in a flash fire which destroyed their home in this rural southeast Michigan town.

Charles Nutt, 37, his two sons, Charles Jr., 12, and William, 7, and a daughter, Bonnie, 10, died in the flames.

Nutt's wife, Phyllis, 35, and another daughter, Denise, 4, escaped by jumping through a window.

Adenauer Over Spell of Grippe

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has recovered from his spell of the grippe and will return to work Thursday, the government press office announced. Adenauer, now 86, has been ill at home for the past 12 days.

mean about $10 million annually to Fort Smith.

Today's celebration marks the high point in an industrial drive which netted 61 industries for the Fort Smith area since Jan. 1, 1956. Several thousand new jobs have been created in the city, whose economy took a body blow in 1959 when the Army closed nearby Ft. Chaffee with a resulting loss of more than 1,000 jobs.

Ft. Chaffee was reactivated last October, but the economic loss already had been more than offset by industrial expansion.

2nd Breakdown on Various Co. Personal Assessments During Past Three Years

This is a partial report on the assessment of various items on the tax books of Hempstead over the past three years for the entire county.

The group listed in today's Star taken in order of columns on the tabulation record. There are about ten more columns listed under various categories such as furniture & fixtures; stocks, bonds, securities, etc. They will be listed later.

The group today happens to be primarily rural items. All but two of the columns show a drop in assessments. This first group includes autos, trucks, etc. which, naturally, show an increase as they have to be assessed in order to buy licenses. Take the cars and trucks out of the assessments listed today and there is a decline of $45,795 over 1960.

Horses and Mules Decline

In 1961 there were 968 horses and mules on the tax books at an assessed value of $6,760. Only a year ago 1,142 were assessed at a value of $9,785 and in 1959 1,416 were assessed at a value of $10,395. Thus a drop is registered every year in the past three.

Decrease in Cattle

Last year 15,775 cattle were assessed at a value of $318,790. The previous year the books showed 17,171 head valued at $346,035 and in 1959 the books showed 17,130 head at $266,945. This reveals a very big drop in 1961 from the 1960 assessment.

Hogs Leave Fast

A mere 123 hogs are registered in 1961 at a value of $520. Last year 335 were registered at a value of $1,715 and 1959 the 278 hogs assessed were valued at $1,275.

Poultry Dips Sharply

In 1961 the books show poultry assessed at 119,301 and valued at $26,750. The previous year the 410,654 assessed were valued at $40,380; and in 1959 poultry numbered 97,400 and valued at $15,750.

More Tractors, Less Value

Last year 471 tractors were listed at a value of $43,865; the previous year 460 were listed at a value of $42,775; and in 1959 a total of 485 were on the books at a value of $47,620.

Shows Another Drop

In the value of other farm equipment column the total assessment was $14,470 last year; this was a drop from 1960 which totaled $16,260 and a huge dip from 1959 which showed a total of $28,650.

Increase In Cars

The auto and truck, trailer and motorcycle assessment is automatic. There were 6,368 registered in 1961 at an assessed value of $882,045; the number in 1960 was 5,886 valued at $834,215; and in 1959 the 5,854 registered was valued at $818,370.

Sheep, Goats Disappear

There were no sheep or goats registered in 1961 as compared to 331 in 1960 valued at $700 and 320 registered in 1959 at $650. (Note: Mrs. Isabell McCorkle, deputy assessor, says that a slip of a carbon caused 350 goats assessed by O. P. Morrison of Hope Special Dist. to be registered in the livestock column. So outside of the Hope Dist. no sheep or goats were assessed, unless they were listed as something else.)

NOTICE

Mr. J. E. Morrison assessed 350 sheep for O. P. Leonard of Houston, Texas, in 1961. Through error these were entered on the Personal Tax Book as Cattle.

Looking Back on Life Few Years Ago

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Tie is a march, not a wait.

And you've marched into middle age—or, in some cases, old age—if you can look back in your lifetime and remember when:

The postman blew his whistle twice a day at your door, and you could send a letter across the country for a two-cent stamp.

You and your wife could stay at a good hotel for less than a pet hospital now charges to park your cat or dog overnight.

One of the functions of a rich man's poor relative was to break in his new shoes for him.

Women going on trips always foted along a jar of melling salts as they never knew when they might see some strange sight that could cause them to faint.

Nobody went on a 45-mile train journey without a basket of food big enough to feed half of starving China.

Muggers feared to attack lone ladies as they carried long hatpins sharp enough to skewer a man as neatly as if he were a piece of errant shish-kebab.

Trolley cars carried both a motorman and a conductor, as no one in his right senses could expect a man to collect fares and drive a dangerous vehicle at the same time.

Every home had two social centers—the kitchen and the front porch.

The national drink was near beer, and the national wisecrack was, "Whoever named it near beer was a poor judge of dis tance."

The height of sophisticated re partee was to shake your head and exclaim, "Boy, that's the cat's pajamas!"

The wealthiest man in town was the one who had a two-buggy sla ble—and a bathroom with a real tub.

Only young daredevils ventured out in cold weather without a pair of spats.

The greatest event of the winter social season in rural areas was the arrival of the mail order cat alogues.

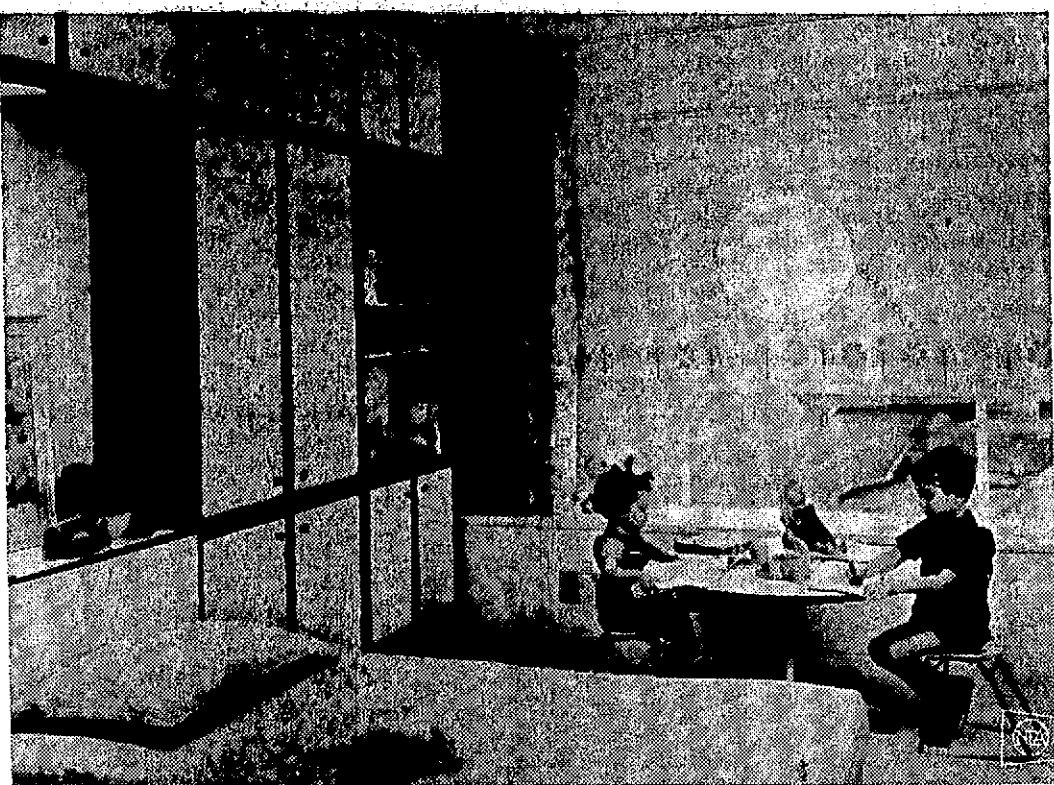

One of the great joys of child hood was to look at an eclipse through a smoked piece of broken window glass. If you looked at it with bare eyes, you were bound to go blind.

It was perfectly all right for a grandmother to puff her pipe at home, but any woman who smoked a cigarette in the pres ence of men was regarded as the devil's plaything.

During the depression you got a free piece of china everytime you bought a ticket to the movies.

The best-behaved kids in the neighborhood were those whose father had the biggest razor strap.

Remember?

Model children in a model child's room look too neat and good to be true but room planning encourages tidiness. Mammoth storage wall holds toys, clothing and out-of-season items; bed headboard incorporates bedding storage but there are no inaccessible crevices where toys can disappear. Cut-outs of the flowers on curtains are pasted to the window shade which shuts out light during nap time.

No Alarm at Low Ebb in Movieland

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Movie production here is at the lowest ebb since the strikes of 1959, but there appears to be no alarm.

Three major studios have one film apiece — "Jumbo" (Doris Day, Stephen Boyd) at MGM; "Who's Got the Action" (Dean Martin, Lana Turner) at Para mount and "Gypsy" (Rosalind Russell, Natalie Wood) at War ners.

Columbia, 20th-Fox, Disney, Al lied Artists and Universal have no films shooting here. Twelve American movies are being made overseas.

Four big independent films are in production locally: "Taras tis"; "A Child Is Waiting" (Burt Lancaster, Judy Garland); "Two for the Seesaw" (Shirley Mac Laine, Robert Mitchum); and "The Manchurian Candidate" (Frank Sinatra). Also one offer ing which may be the height of dirty pictures—"The Slime Peo ple."

Eight pictures shooting in a town that once averaged 50!

The outlook for 1962 seems brighter. With box office figures improving, producers seem more willing to take chances. The pro duction picture is bound to get brighter—if only because it can't get worse.

Pearson Named to U. S. Senate

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—James B. Pearson, 41, former Kansas Republican state chairman, was appointed to the U.S. Senate to day to succeed the late Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel, also a Re publican.

Pearson of Prairie Village, a Kansas City suburb, was named by Gov. John Anderson who had earlier been considered a possible choice.

Schoepel, a veteran conserva tive senator, died Jan. 21 at the Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital of cancer.

Carson Might Replace Paar

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Paar said on his television show Tues day night that Johnny Carson will replace him starting Oct. 1.

Paar said he would leave the late night show at the end of March, as previously announced. There was no immediate indica tion as to who would fill in for him until October. NBC declined comment.

Some Facts in Field of Science

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The odds of death by solar storm for space travelers, new space eyes planned for world weathermen, and frustrations in a cat's life are subjects for science at work.

Odds Against Death

Every so often flares erupt ran domly on the surface of the sun and unleash a storm of radiation into space. On earth we're pro tected from most of it by the shielding of the earth's atmos phere. In space there is no pro tection.

For space travelers, this could be a hazard. But now Boeing Air craft scientists, after a long study of solar storms, figure the odds against a death-dealing dose of this radiation in the course of a week-long space mission would be 120-1.

This is without shielding. The hazard of death would be even lower if spaceships were designed to use the equipment and fuel tanks as protection against the solar radiation.

Weather Eyes

The Tiro's satellites already are sharpening the foresight of weather men for large areas of the earth.

With their television cameras trained on the clouds that send over the earth, the satellites have spotted hurricanes forming, eluded weathermen in Australia to the end of a long heat wave, and helped pinpoint violent tropical storms.

Four more Tiro's satellites will be launched, and in 1962 the first Nimbus satellite will be sent into orbit over the North and South poles. With this orbit, the Nimbus will be able to see clouds at every point on earth as the globe rotates slowly under it.

Finally, two Nimbus satellites may patrol at once, providing worldwide data every six hours.

A Cat's Life

Having trouble adjusting? Do things change too rapidly for you? Don't feel bad, your pet cat may have the same trouble.

Veterinarians investigating the mental health of pets find that cats do indeed become frustrated, largely from having to live in city environments or otherwise conform to human standards.

Cites Need for Outdoor Recreation

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special commission reported today that a surging need for more outdoor recreation in America must be met by imagination, large-scale action and "money—lots of it."

But the Outdoor Recreation Re sources and Review Commission left it to President Kennedy and Congress, and to state and local governments, to figure out price tags and what specific areas should be acquired or improved.

The 15-man commission, headed by Laurance S. Rockefeller, New York, did say that "the first task is to provide recreation for the metropolitan regions, which have the biggest population and de mand for recreation and the least space for it."

In urging immediate acquisition of ocean and lake shores, it said that: "Highest priority should be given to acquisition of areas lo cated closest to major population centers and other areas that are immediately threatened. The need is critical—opportunity to place these areas in public ownership is fading each year as other uses encroach."

Basically, the commission said, there is plenty of land and water acreage for recreation, but most of it "is where the people are not."

Rockefeller told a news briefing that it was on purpose that "we haven't come up with either acres or dollars." The commission's idea, he said, was to discuss the principles and tools and leave it to others to determine how they can be used best.

No plans have been developed, he told a questioner, for following through on the report in the legis lative field. Sen. Clinton P. Ander son, D-N.M., a commission mem ber, said he was sure bills would be introduced to carry out many of the recommendations.

By direction of Congress, the commission has been spending three years and $2.5 million peer ing into the problem of outdoor fun as it will develop over 40 years—up to the year 2000.

It put more than 50 recommen dations on paper. Some probably will be echoed in a vast conserva tion program, stressing recreation which Kennedy is expected to put before Congress in a special mes sage Feb. 21.

Four Airmen Found Alive

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—A U.S. medical team found four U.S. air men alive today around the wreck age of their small Army airplane high up on snow-covered Zardkyh Mountain where it crashed last Saturday, U.S. authorities report ed.

There was no word of a fifth airman who previously was re ported aboard, and identities of the four survivors were withheld by American officials.

The U.S. Defense Department had said the five men aboard the plane on a flight from Tehran to Duzful in southwest Iran were Major Donald Carter, Rayville, Mo., the pilot; Col. Walter M. Vann, Monroe, N.C.; Lt. Col. Wal ter R. Johnson, Baldwin, N.Y.; Capt. Daniel L. Krets, Atlanta, Ga., and Spec. 5 John E. Porter, Springfield, Ill.

The single-engine plane plunged into deep snow about 12,000 feet up the mountain. Bad weather had prevented rescue teams from reaching the plane earlier al though supplies had been dropped from the air.

Accident Kills Two Professors

PLACERVILLE, Calif. (AP)—An auto accident took the lives of the president of St. Mary's Col lege, Moraga, and two former professors at the Catholic institu tion.

Killed were Brother S. Albert, 42, former principal of St. Mary's High School in Berkeley and president of St. Mary's College since 1956; Brother Cornelius, 84, professor emeritus of art, and Brother Julius, 72, retired profes sor of Spanish.

Brother Julian, 71, professor of education and psychology at St. Mary's, and Brother S. Robert 47, professor of philosophy, were treated at Marshall Hospital and released.

The five had spent Monday in the Heavenly Valley ski resort area and were returning to St. Mary's.

Meal In Itself

SALMON-EGG CASSEROLE is an easy-to-make and delicious dish. Serve it with hot French bread or rolls and a tossed salad.

Here is a dish, suitable for Lent, but delicious at any time of the year, in which tender, appetizing flakes of salmon are blended and baked with rice, eggs, and delicate spices. Simple to pre pare, this casserole is inexpen sively elegant and eminently sat isfying as a main course for luncheon, dinner, or supper. It may be made early in the day and heated half an hour before mealtime.

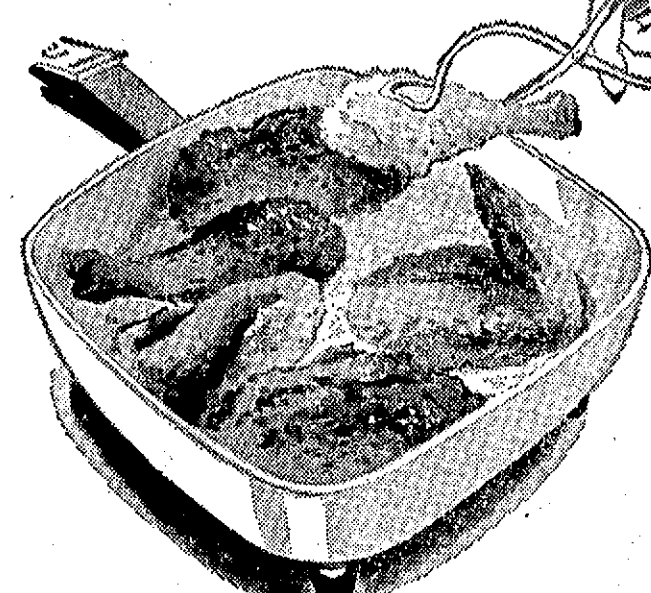

Salmon-Egg Casserole

2 1/2 cups butter
1 medium onion, chopped
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon basil
1 teaspoon thyme

1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 1/2 cups milk
2 cups cooked rice
A 1-pound can salmon, drained and flaked
6 hard-cooked eggs, quartered

In a saucepan melt butter. Add onion and celery and cook for 10 minutes. Stir in flour, basil, thyme, salt and pepper. Gradu ally stir in milk and cook over low heat, stirring, until sauce is smooth and thick. Arrange rice in bottom of a 2-quart greased baking dish. Top with salmon and eggs. Pour in sauce and bake in a preheated 350°F. oven for 25 to 30 minutes. If desired, serve with sour cream. Serves 6.

Britisher Is Hero in Congo Rescue

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A quiet British army officer is the hero of the Congo after defying spears and rifle bullets to rescue European missionaries from the no man's land of north Katanga.

Maj. Dick Lawson, 35, a career officer serving with the U.N. forces here, told a news conference here Monday he marched alone past 800 Congolese soldiers to rescue a Roman Catholic priest and that later he faced a frenzied mob of villagers who screamed for his death as a spy and invader.

But Lawson rescued five Roman Catholic Church workers and said he arranged for the safe passage of several dozen others from the north Katanga wilds separating mutinous units of the Congolese army and the Katanga gendarmerie.

He said there were no more Europeans in north Katanga.

Lawson, who grew up in the peaceful English countryside, volunteered to make two missions—one of them alone—into north Katanga where 22 white men were slain by Congolese soldiers in a New Year's Day massacre.

On his first journey, Jan. 23-24, Lawson was dropped off at a landing strip in Katanga by a U.N. airplane that took off immediately.

"About 800 soldiers were crowding the Katanga airfield," he said. "I jumped off the moving plane as it turned around, then walked the length of the airfield toward the troops. No shots were fired—I would have jumped out of my skin if they had."

He worked his way past the troops to the pillaged town, scene of the massacre, and found one white priest, Lawson brought him back to Leopoldville the following day. He declined to say how he got back lest he endanger the lives of Congolese who helped him.

Lawson flew back to Katanga on Jan. 27, this time with a Nigerian army major and a 17-year-old guide. Commandeering a car, they drove to a village on the border of territory controlled by Katanga President Moise Tshombe's forces to arrange for evacuation of three nuns and eight priests.

"Then the trouble started," he said. "While we were talking, the entire population of the village arrived, and it was quite obvious they didn't like us." He explained that the villagers thought they were from the Congolese army force loyal to Antoine Gizenga which invaded north Katanga from Stanleyville and Kivu Province.

The frenzied villagers thrust spears at his throat and battered him and the others with rifle bullets.

"About 300 villagers were surrounding us, screaming people, absolutely uncontrollable in their hatred," Lawson continued.

"Eventually, I was pulled to the house of the army commander and the others managed after a lot of monkey business to get away from the frantic mob."

"Here things started to be a bit more pleasant. But people were still screaming for our blood and we were taken to the balcony by some friendly officers. They pushed us around a bit just to make the crowd happy, but they were taking care of us."

Lawson said the turning point came when the officers heard a news broadcast confirm that he and his two companions were only trying to seek out missionaries. "This seemed to convince them that I was not a spy, and gradually the crowd got tired and went home."

Firm Hired for Interstate Section

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission hired a New York engineering firm today to make surveys and prepare plans for a 22-mile segment of Interstate Route 40 between Brinkley and Hazen.

Highway Director F. R. Oliver was authorized to execute a planning contract with Blauvelt Engineering Co.

Oliver told the commission a heavy work load caused by release of federal matching funds last year made it impossible for department engineers to plan all projects on which work should start soon.

The Hazen-Brinkley segment will cost an estimated $22 million, Oliver said, because it crosses the White and Cache River bottoms and will require major bridges over these rivers.

Oliver said the Highway Department considered this segment an emergency need because of high repair costs on the White River bridge on U. S. Highway 70, which is now the main route between Little Rock and Memphis.

Herter Denies He Will Run

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Sr. has labeled "pure and utter speculation" reports that he will run for Congress in Massachusetts this year.

Herter told newsmen Monday "there is nothing in" a report that he will head a slate of Republican candidates in an all-party race for 12 House seats if Massachusetts is redistricted to eliminate two seats.

Roberts Wins Rayburn's House Seat

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—Ray Roberts, a merchant and president pro tem of the Texas Senate, has won the U.S. House seat of his political mentor, the late Sam Rayburn.

The 48-year-old Democrat, jubilant almost to the point of tears, said he was succeeding "the greatest man who ever lived." He promptly telephoned Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, long a political associate, and arranged a victory meeting in Washington Monday.

Roberts defeated Robert C. (Bob) Slagle in Tuesday's runoff election in Texas' 4th congressional district, represented by Rayburn for 48 years.

When the vote count ended Tuesday night Roberts held an insurmountable lead of 18,047 to 13,302 and Slagle had conceded. Both Roberts and Slagle were proteges of Rayburn and both described themselves as supporters of the Kennedy administration, although Roberts was regarded as more conservative.

After the Revolutionary War, the Declaration of Independence traveled with Congress to Annapolis, Md., Trenton, N. J., and New York City. Then it followed the national government to Philadelphia and finally, in 1800 to Washington.

Rescue Teams Transfer Survivors

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—American rescue teams today began transferring some of the survivors of a wrecked U.S. military plane that crashed on snow-covered Zardkuh Mountain in rugged southwest Iran Saturday with five persons aboard.

The teams also began rescue operations of one of their own number who parachuted into a difficult spot two miles from the scene.

U.S. military mission authorities here announced that the pilot of the crashed plane is dead. He was identified as Maj. Donald A. Carder of Rayville, Mo.

But it was not known whether Carder was among the four original survivors and died later, or was the fifth man aboard the plane mentioned as missing. U.S. authorities named two of the survivors, Col. Walter M. Vann of Monroe, N.C., and Specialist John E. Porter of Springfield, Ill.

Two other men aboard the plane were Lt. Col. Walter Johnson of Baldwin, N.Y., and Capt. Daniel Knotts of Atlanta, Ga.

There still was no indication of the condition of the survivors.

Peanuts may be grown on future space ships. The peanut plant flourishes in crowded quarters and exhales a great deal of oxygen.

Thinks Space Program Is Gaining

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told Congress today the U.S. space program gained new impetus and breadth last year, but even greater strides must be made in the months and years ahead.

Reporting to Congress in accordance with the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958, Kennedy detailed activities of various government departments and agencies in the space field.

During the last year, he said, major attention was devoted to establishing this country's policy objective of space leadership and accelerating efforts toward achieving that objective.

Kennedy recalled that he told Congress in a message May 25, 1961, that a leading role in space achievement may well hold the key to this country's future.

"That I reaffirm," he said.

Broadly sketching what has been done since he took office, Kennedy said: "Foremost was the national decision to land a team of U.S. explorers on the moon during the present decade—a goal previously contemplated for the mid-1970s. This objective, moreover, became part of a national space program composed of many basic projects. To carry out this national program effectively

Electrical Workers Strike Illegally

NEW YORK (AP)—Western Electric installation workmen struck "illegally" in four Iowa places at noon today, the company said.

Ken Silvers, national director of the Communication Workers of America, installers union, immediately described the walkout as unauthorized. Silvers is heading a union team negotiating a new contract with the company.

Western Electric said the Iowa walkout involved 157 installers who quit in Des Moines, Mason City, Red Oak and Spencer. They had been employed to hook up and service equipment at Bell Telephone System exchanges.

Files for Senate

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Rep. Eugene Canada of Garland County filed Tuesday for the Eleventh Senatorial District post now held by Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs. Canada, 38, is in his second term as representative. Hurst has not yet announced for re-election.

and efficiently the nation began marshaling scientific, technical, and physical resources."

Primarily for the lunar project, but also for other space missions, Kennedy said, actions to achieve far greater rocket thrusts and to build larger space craft were undertaken.

JFK Stokes New Fires in Congress

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy stokes fresh political fires today under a Congress balking at major segments of his legislative program.

Even before Kennedy's farm message formally reached Capitol Hill today there were clear signs that a partisan uproar over his proposals would swell the political clatter surrounding his entire 1962 program.

Republicans were poised to blast what they regard as a something-for-everybody format. Democrats were sharply divided on it and none could forecast the final form in which any legislation would be passed.

If Kennedy was not secretly enjoying the political clatter, he at least was doing nothing to quiet it.

With obvious White House approval, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson aimed at the Senate Finance Committee a demand that it hold public hearings on the administration's controversial proposal for medical care for the aged, financed by Social Security.

A majority of the committee seemed likely to support the view of Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., that the Senate should wait for the House to act.

In the House, the lines within the Ways and Means Committee appeared as tight as ever against action on the Kennedy bill.

The House provided a bright spot for the President Tuesday. It passed a bill to provide a $1.5-billion, five-year program of aid to colleges for expanding their facilities.

This measure, representing a fragment of the President's stalled general aid to education program, may get Senate action later in the week.

The fate of Kennedy's reorganization plan to create a new department of urban affairs—which he said would be headed by Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver, a Negro—was clouded with uncertainty.

House leaders pushed for hearings preliminary to a showdown vote. Either chamber can veto the plan.

In the Senate, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Government Operations Committee which will consider the urban affairs plan, joined Republicans in denouncing it as political and inadequate.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said he thinks the "colored race would be very resentful of the President" because, he said, Negroes had been "used as a pawn" in this case.

Kennedy's request for authority to purchase $100 million in U.N. bonds also was brought under fire. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois indicated Republicans would have alternatives to offer.

In the civil rights field, supporters of Kennedy's literacy test bill lost a tactical maneuver but gained a promise that an attempt will be made to get Senate action on the bill within 90 days.

The measure would bar any state literacy standard other than a sixth-grade education for voting in primaries or general elections for federal offices.

The Senate voted 61-25 to send the bill to the Judiciary Committee, where such measures have

Is Your Home Really Clean?

Hygienists claim that many homemakers are not taking full advantage of the potent germ-destroying properties of modern cleaning aids. Horse and buggy cleaning methods are robbing them of the efficiency which science has labored to provide.

The old, unsanitary scrub rag, for example, has largely been replaced by the modern, hygienic cellulose sponge. These sponges, efficient and durable, are helpful in any kind of cleaning.

But—do you utilize all of their built-in sanitary features to help you rid your home of germs?

1) Do you use different cellulose sponges for each cleaning purpose?

Your dishwashing sponges should be used solely for that purpose. The same sponge should not be used on all bathroom fixtures—a separate cellulose sponge should be used for the commode. Common sense will dictate the use of different sponges for floors, walls and woodwork, furniture, etc.

The sponge for each job should be kept in a specific place where no mistake can cause it to be used incorrectly.

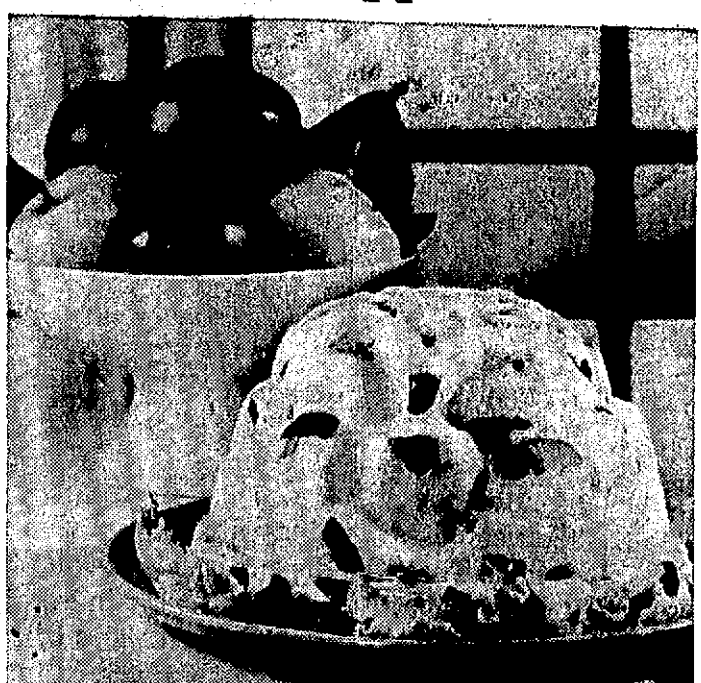

2) Do you rinse them thoroughly in clear water after each use so that they will be clean for next time?

3) Do you sterilize them at regular intervals?

This is easily accomplished by dropping them into briskly boiling water, with 2 tablespoons of baking soda added to each 2 pints of water to make the sponges smell fresh and sweet.

Modern Mold Dramatizes Waldorf Apple Salad

The world-famous Waldorf Salad now is found in as many versions as there are cooks, but the original combination of sweet and tangy apple chunks, rich, crunchy walnut bits, crisp and cool celery strips remains the flavorful basis for this family-favorite salad. This modern interpretation catches these basic ingredients in a handsome molded tower of gelatin, fluffed with whipped cream and mayonnaise. Bright bits of Washington State Red Delicious or Winesap apples peek through the gelatin to create a "show-piece" salad for luncheon, dinner, or buffet serving.

Jellied Waldorf Mousse

1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup diced celery
1 1/2 cups diced, unpeeled Washington Red Delicious or Winesap apples
1/2 cup chopped nutmeats
1/2 cup cream, whipped

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Chill until thick and syrupy. Blend mayonnaise and gelatin until smooth, then add diced Washington apples, celery and nutmeats. Fold whipped cream into gelatin mixture. Turn into 1 quart mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold onto salad greens. Serves 8.

Eastern Part of U.S. Hit by Cold Air

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Piercing cold covered much of the eastern half of the nation today, driving temperatures to season lows in many cities in the East.

One of the worst Januarys in years ended with weather as clear and chilling as an ice cube from the Plains to the Atlantic Coast.

Among the readings early in the day: Buonville, N.Y., —23; Lake Placid, N.Y., —22; International Falls, Minn., —18; Lebanon, N.H., —16; Limestone, Maine, —15; Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., —13; Pittsburgh —11, and Elkins, W.Va., —6.

Temperatures of 9 above in Newark, N.J., and 10.8 above in New York City were low marks for the current winter.

Chicago, with 1 below zero, endured its 10th day of subzero chill this month. The normal number is 3.

About 50 persons spent more than five hours on a ferryboat that got stuck in the ice while trying to cross the Hudson River between Newburgh and Beacon, N.Y. A sister ferry, working in 10 above zero cold, freed the entrapped boat.

New England felt the sting of the season's coldest winter. The harsh cold rolled in after a snow squall in Southern New England and 7-inch fall in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. The mercury dropped to —20 in Caribou, Maine, and Newfane, Vt.

Up to 4 inches of snow was on the ground in the mountains of West Virginia.

Fog again covered mountain valley areas in Central California, the Pacific Northwest and parts of Idaho, Nevada and Utah.

Since Sunday 14 traffic deaths have been reported on a 230-mile stretch of Central Valley between Bakersfield and Stockton, Calif. Driving has taken on new hazards because of alternate patches of light and heavy fog. Motorists step up speed in the light mist and plunge suddenly into blinding clouds.

Schools near Bakersfield were closed for the rest of the week. Officials felt it was too risky for more than 70,000 students to travel by bus.

Liner at Last Port of Call

LA SPEZIA, Italy (AP)—The transatlantic liner Liberte came today to her last port of call.

The former pride of the German and French merchant fleets arrived from Le Havre for demolition at the Terrestre Marittima shipyards.

One hundred and fifty workers will take nine months to reduce the ship to 38,000 tons of scrap metal. The Liberte was built in 1928 as Germany's Europa. She was ceded to France in 1946 as war reparation.

been buried in the past. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Dirksen pledged that if the committee doesn't act, they will try to attach the measure to some other legislation before May 1.

Miss Young Pert, Pretty as Usual

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There was Loretta Young on the Goldwyn studio street, looking as pert and pretty as when she used to whip through that drawing room doorway on TV Sunday nights.

"What's doing?" I asked.

"New series," she replied. And twenty minutes later, she had told me the plot of the pilot film and all the details of her new TV show. Then she dashed off with a whisk of petticoats.

It takes some doing to keep up with the dynamic Loretta. When her show faded from TV after eight successful years, no one believed she would be idle for long.

"Oh, I've enjoyed having the 'vacation' she said. "But will also like to work. That is to say, I enjoy the actual work—the making of the show. All the preparation is the hard part."

The Loretta Young Show was swept off TV in the anti-feminist drive that saw the networks canceling shows starring nearly every female personality except Donna Reed.

The ladies made a small comeback this season with Gertrude Berg, Shirley Booth ("Hazel"), and "Marge." Next season may see a return of femininity (new word) to TV, with the possibility of Loretta, Lucille Ball and Eve Arden being back with new shows.

"I think we have a good chance with ours," said Loretta. "At least I think it's good. We'll see how they think back East."

The pilot was financed by a sponsor and that's a good sign. The show is now called "Christine's Children." You've guessed it—a family show. But Loretta is going all out to beat the others; she'll have seven children, ranging from 6 to 18.

Roast, Pork Among Best Meat Buys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Round roasts and beef ribs, pork roasts, lamb shoulders and legs and frozen turkeys are among the best buys in most of the nation's markets this weekend.

Chops, steaks, and chicken fryers are less attractive in price, relatively, though the slow climb in fryer prices has not yet taken them out of the economy class.

One big national chain is featuring leg of lamb at 47 cents a pound this weekend in some stores.

Higher wholesale prices on some lamb and beef cuts are beginning to show up on meat counters.

Freeze effects continue to show up at grocery stores, in selectivity if not in price. Rises in canned prices are predicted.

Smart shoppers will look to vegetables unaffected by the freeze. These include such items coming from storage as Eastern potatoes, sweet potatoes and old-crop cabbage.

New crop cabbage, spinach, tomatoes, and lettuce may show some frost damage, but the shop-who is selective can find good buys among them.

Farm Plan Involves Everyone

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy's ambitious new farm program would involve you—farmer or city dweller—as a taxpayer and as a consumer.

The President says it should save the taxpayer quite a bit of money—some $5 billion in the next four years on programs that otherwise would cost more than $12 billion.

The chance of its cutting the supply include carrots, onions, radishes and celery.

Among fresh fruits, apples, oranges—especially Florida juicers, grapefruit and lemons are the best buys nationally. Easterners can snap up limes and avocados.

price of food is something else again. The President says his plan would actually boost farm income and thus presumably keep prices fairly stable at the source. But the big items in food cost increases in recent years have occurred after the food leaves the farm.

Just how much you would be affected either as taxpayer or consumer probably will be debated hotly in Congress, just as surely as will the question of whether the proposal would do what the President expects.

He says it will cut total federal agricultural expenditures from this year's $6.3 billion to $5.8 billion in the 1963 fiscal year. And of that sum he thinks the price support, supply and purchase programs of $2.5 billion could be cut by $434 million in the 1963 budget, for a starter.

If such savings could be attained, without harm to farmers or others, taxpayers doubtless would be happy, even if many would lie to see much deeper cuts.

The effect on prices is another matter. It is true that the farm programs since the early 1930s have been designed to support prices by buying up surpluses, with the stated aim of keeping the farmer's income somewhere in line with the prices he must pay—and they're a lot higher than 25 years ago. This support affects the price of food at the store, although farm prices are now put at 23 per cent below the high set in February, 1951.

But another element that enters into retail food prices is the increase in costs of transportation, processing, packaging, distribution, and retailing.

The family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Co., Minneapolis, Minn., says that this year for the first time there will be as many workers engaged in transporting, processing and selling food as in producing it on the farm.

Unexpected Happening in Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Dizzy days, these. Things get mixed up, turned around. What wasn't supposed to happen happens. What wasn't in the cards occurs. All in a few weeks or a few months. In this congressional election year President Kennedy wasn't expected to biff the Republicans yet, but he's biffing. He wasn't expected to push for civil rights in 1962, but he's pushing. Communism, between screams about Western imperialism, invites the President's brother to Moscow. Kennedy, while building the armed forces against communism, has Premier Khrushchev's daughter and son-in-law to lunch. Khrushchev set a Dec. 31 deadline for settling Berlin but let it slide. Although he's one of the most talkative men of modern times, he has been practically speechless for months. Prime Minister Nehru, that self-righteous apostle of sweet reasonableness who deplored violence invaded tiny Portuguese Goa, just before Indian election time. The Communist world, which posed as one big happy band of brothers, is split and fighting under its breath like a family that pulled down the shades to keep the neighbors from seeing the dishes flying. The United States, two years behind the Soviets in putting a rocket on the moon, tried and missed by 25,000 miles. The man who was to be the first American to orbit around the earth is still earthbound. The Communists who got hysterics when the American U2 spy plane was downed over Russia, sent their own U2 over Italy. It, too, came down. Britain, which thought it smart to stay out of the European economic community, now thinks it's smarter to get in. The big wahoo over Pentagon censoring of speeches by the military brass revealed that most of the time subordinates have been censoring speeches written by subordinates for brass which did not see them first. President Charles de Gaulle, backed by the French army in Algeria, came to power four years ago in high hopes he could stop the Algerian slaughter. He hasn't. Now a secret Algerian army is working against him. Some of Kennedy's biggest frustrations in his Democratic-run Congress comes from Democrats. Republicans, after a January stock-taking, are still trying to figure where they stand and what for. Competition, that symbol of rugged individualism in the American free enterprise system, keeps getting squeezed out of shape as more big businesses merged to avoid it. The Red Chinese, those tireless ELECTRONIC DEFENSE SCREEN—A curtain of multi-million-watt radar beams stands guard around most of the North American continent. With the exception of one station still under construction in England, a warning system against both planes and missiles is in operation. Newsmap above shows this series of sentinels, which has its nerve center at North American Defense Command Headquarters in Colorado Springs. At three locations—Clear, Alaska; Thule, Greenland; and later, Fylingdales Moor, England—massive radar antennas reach out electronically for 2,000 miles to give 15 minutes' warning time of a ballistic missile attack over the Arctic. Radar lines in Canada guard against airplanes; ships and planes patrol the coasts; while a southern radar line is charged with keeping track of all orbiting objects in space. All are in instant communication with NORAD.

talkers about the great leap forward, leaped forward on their face by pushing communism too fast. It's a mess inside China now. This country's Alliance for Progress with Latin America did not progress far enough for the foreign ministers of the alliance, meeting in Uruguay, to give Fidel Castro a full rebuff. Cigar-chomping Castro, for some reason still a mystery, chopped some more and admitted he bamboozled his own Cubans by making them think he wasn't a Marxist when, he says, he was. Khrushchev, acting for years like a man with everything under control, has been having trouble with old Stalin types like bulldogish V. M. Molotov. Communist Albania, smallest of all the Red satrapies, like a pussy cat against a bear is hissing at the Soviets. The United Arab Republic got awfully disunited when Syria cut loose from Egypt. The 36 columns in the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C., represents the states in the Union at the time of Lincoln's death. In the field of atomic power

Ship Power Program in New Progress
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission reported today new progress in the nuclear powered ship program—a technological race in which the United States apparently maintains a long lead over the Soviet Union. The annual AEC report to Congress said that 5 atomic-engine warships and a merchant ship are operating, building or authorized for building. Atomic craft already at sea include 24 submarines, a cruiser and a carrier. The atomic submarines had cruised a total of 1,358,63 miles by the end of last November, the commission said. The world's first nuclear commerce ship, the Savannah, is fueled "and ready to begin sea trials."

plants for industrial use, the AEC said that, although no new major producing projects began generating electricity during 1961, three plants already in operation showed outputs during the year which exceeded expectations. In 1961, the report said, "several hundred thousand families were furnished atomic electric power for cooking, lighting, heating, cooling and other services in various parts of the country." The general picture for the civilian power program was mixed: "Operating activities were encouraging while construction activities were discouraging. As a result of the successful operation of three large-scale power reactors, plus the support of three experimental plants, some electricity was produced by nuclear energy every day of the year. On the other hand, several other reactors which were expected to be operating in 1961 did not because of delays in construction or technical difficulties." The "encouraging" records were at the Shippingport, Pa., station, the Dresden plant near Morris, Ill., and the Yankee plant at Rowe, Mass., the commission said. The report made it clear that no civilian power plant so far is near the goal of economic nuclear power, as compared with present rates for conventionally produced electrical power. The nation's investment in atomic energy facilities—for research, power generation, production, weapons—now totals $7.7 billion. A table showed the AEC used $516 million for weapons development and fabrication during the fiscal year which ended last June 30. The AEC said that "work is moving forward" on the joint AEC-National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Project Rover for development of nuclear power to propel manned and unmanned vehicles.

Red Party in Viet Nam Is Protested

By ROY ESSOYAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's anti-Communist government has protested to the three-nation control commission against the recent formation by Communist North Viet Nam of a "Marxist-Leninist" party in South Viet Nam. The new party is known as the Viet Nam People's Revolutionary party. Communist announcements indicate they plan to use the new party as the nucleus of a "neutralist" rebel government on South Viet Nam territory. Formation of the new party marks the first time North Viet Nam's Communist government has publicly identified itself with the rebel movement in the south. Heretofore, the Viet Cong guerrillas operating in South Viet Nam have refrained from trying to sell

Boy Is Back Home But He Traveled

CHICAGO (AP) — Rickie Oprondek, 10, a model airplane builder and an altar boy, left home Sunday morning carrying $4 and a prayer book to attend Mass. He got home from Mass, by way of San Francisco and a round-trip jet flight on Tuesday night. While police and his distraught parents sought the missing boy, he was found in San Francisco. He got to the Golden Gate city, he said, by sneaking aboard an American Airlines jet passenger plane Sunday night. "I didn't want to go nowhere," he said. "I wanted to see how it (the jet plane) looked. And it started. I didn't know the plane was going to take off." Rickie said after the plane took off he wanted to tell the stewardess he was a stowaway. "But I was too scared," he explained. He spent two days in San Francisco, most of the time wandering around International Airport looking at airplanes and asking airline personnel questions about flights. Airport employees noticed the boy was alone and alerted police. Police established his identity by the name in the prayer book he had in his coat. Then they got in touch with his parents through American Airlines officials. They quickly put him aboard a jet and sent him back to Chicago. The boy was greeted at O'Hare International Airport by his father, John, 54, a machinist, and his mother, Mary, 52. Detectives from the youth detail also were at the airport to question the boy. They said he told them he had slept on couches in the San Francisco Airport, he had spent all his money, buying food, toy airplanes and comic books and was broke. Police held the boy in the juvenile home pending appearance in Family Court on a charge of running away from home.

School Director Has to Qualify

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A school director must be a legal resident and qualified voter in the district he serves, the attorney general's office ruled today. The opinion went to Corning City Atty. Bryan McCallen who asked if ownership of real property in a school district would qualify a person to be a director.

Pneumonia Fatal

MEMPHIS (AP) — Miss Mary Grimes Hutchison, 89, the founder of fashionable Miss Hutchison's school here, died at a hospital Monday night of pneumonia. Miss Hutchison retired in 1947 and sold the girls' school. It is now operated by a non-profit educational foundation.

How Famous Families Relax

As an "outdoor" family with the accent on physical fitness, President Kennedy and his family relax on the grounds of the "Compound" at Hyannisport, playing touch football.

Famous dance instructors Kathlyn and Arthur Murray, who have spent their lives teaching other people to relax—play the game, Clue, for their own diversion.

Debbie Reynolds and her family relax with music. The pert and popular actress plays the French Horn—while her husband and children look on with admiration and glee.

Bob Hope and his wife, Dolores, relax by playing the famous game of Monopoly, which Hope likes to play because it makes him feel like a real estate tycoon.
